PREFATORY NOTICE.

THE Trustees of the Public Library have much satisfaction in offering to their fellow-citizens an important additional or supplementary Index of books contained in the Institution committed to their care.

The Index published in July, 1861, comprised, — excluding duplicates, — about fifty-five thousand volumes, which had been placed in the Upper or Bates Hall previous to October, 1859; all received after that date not having come in season to find their appropriate positions under the alphabetical arrangement adopted. Since that period there have, by the report of the officers of the Institution, been received in the Bates Hall forty-four thousand and seventy volumes, forty-one hundred and twenty of which again came to hand too late to be inserted in the present Index, although each is entered in the interleaved copy of the Index of 1861, open to all in the Library. Fifty-nine hundred and eighty-three more are duplicates, chiefly donations, — indeed almost entirely such, — many of which, though desirable and important, do not, of course, need to be a second time announced. There remain, therefore, thirty-three thousand nine hundred and sixty-six volumes, which are represented in the present Index.

Of the whole number above mentioned, — viz., forty-four thousand and seventy volumes, — eleven thousand one hundred and ninety were received under a bequest of the late Rev. Theodore Parker, besides twenty-five hundred pamphlets received under the same bequest which have since been bound, and are now accounted as books.

Fourteen thousand six hundred and sixty-seven out of eighteen thousand one hundred and forty-nine volumes, purchased during this interval from the income of funds given to the Library at different times by its well-known benefactors, have been placed in the Bates Hall; and three thousand four hundred and eighty-two volumes, purchased from the income of the same funds, have been placed in the Lower Hall. Of those incorporated with the collection in the Bates Hall, all of which are included in the present Index, there were obtained from the Bates Fund, eight thousand one hundred and ninety-eight volumes; from the Bigelow Fund, one hundred and eighty-four; from the Franklin Club Fund, fifty-four; from the Lawrence Fund, two thousand three hundred and nineteen; from the Phillips Fund, three thousand one hundred and fourteen; and from the Townsend Fund, seven hundred and ninety-eight. The remainder of the books have come almost entirely from the multitude of generous individuals whose names may be found recorded in the published Reports of the Trustees between 1860 and 1865, and whose donations, ranging from above three thousand volumes, in one case, down in many cases to a single volume or a single pamphlet, have been gratefully acknowledged from time to time as they were presented.

The Trustees are not aware that an account more honorable to the friends and benefactors of the Library could be asked, or one more full of promise for its continued progress and success.

The Index itself, it is believed, needs no explanation. It has been prepared, as the last was, under the faithful care of Mr. Charles C. Jewett, the Superintendent of the Library, assisted by efficient collaborators, and especially by Mr. Frederic Vinton in the earlier part, and later by Mr. William E. Jillson. It is constructed wholly for practical use, as was its predecessor, which has been accepted as excellent in its kind by the most competent judges at home and abroad, and which many thousands in our own community have found so well suited to their wants, that no change has on the present occasion seemed needful either in regard to principle or to detail.

Nothing, therefore, now remains for the Trustees except to commend this Supplementary Index to all who are interested in the culture and advancement of our city, and then leave it to do its proper work, that of making easily and pleasantly accessible to all, an excellent collection of books, large enough by itself to constitute a respectable library; and which, added to the still ampler collections on our shelves, places the whole Institution in the front rank of the practical and beneficent class to which it belongs.

EXPLANATIONS.

ONE STAR denotes that the book so marked can be taken out only by special permission.

TWO STARS, prefixed to the shelf number, denote that the book was given on condition that it should not be taken from the library building.

THESE STARS are prefixed to the principal title only, — the title which has the imprint, — and not to other brief entries of the book called cross-references.

BRACKETS, enclosing titles, indicate that the work was published anonymously; brackets, within titles, denote that the words included are added to the title, or changed in form.

ABBREVIATIONS peculiar to certain long articles are explained in notes prefixed to the articles. Other abbreviations used in the Index are indeed numerous and various, but they are thought to be so common or so obvious as not to require explanation. 8°, 12°, etc., indicate the apparent size of the book, not always the exact fold of the sheet. Pph. and M.Pph., respectively designate pamphlets and medical pamphlets.

LEARNED SOCIETIES and public institutions are catalogued under the names of the places where they are established.

DURING THE PROGRESS OF THE INDEX, the titles of new books have been inserted whenever the title and cross-references came under letters not already printed, but in some cases, e. g. under the names of Boston authors, titles have been inserted when it was too late for the cross-references, and under the names of Mr. Everett and Pres. Lincoln the cross-references were inserted when the titles could not be.

THE Index to the City Documents, from 1834 to 1865, appended by permission to this Index, was prepared by Mr. James M. Bugbee, now Clerk of Committees of the City Council.

Note. — The "New and general collection of voyages and travels," London, 1744-47, in 4 vols. 4°, commonly known by the name of Astley's, the bookseller, though the compiler was a Mr. John Green, formed the basis of this collection, and of that in French known as the Abbe Prévost's. The German editors profess to have translated directly from the English, and then to have followed in general the Abbe Prévost's continuation, varying therefrom sometimes, e. g. by inserting in Vol. IX, the travels of Juan and Ulloa in South America, and, in Vol. XIV, those of Charlevoix in North America. They have added copious indexes.

The German version was commenced by A. G. Küstner. Most of the work was, however, done by J. J. Schwabe, assisted by F. W. Reir, C. C. Woog, J. F. Müller, J. P. Bierling, and others.

The contents to Prévost's collection, as printed in our Index of '61, may profitably be consulted for this edition.

Núñez Cardinal Ximénez commenced this work as early as 1592. He called to his aid Demetrius Lucas de Crete, El Abate Antonio de Loberia, Jacopo Lopez de Stunica, ar, Hernando Núñez de Guzman, with whom he joined Alfonso de Mendo, Pablo Coronel, Juan de Vercas, and Altamir de Zamora. He collected these in Herax a Mess., and some Greek. Those which had been borrowed from Rome by the favor of Leo X, were returned. Those which Ximénez had bought were preserved at Alcalá, where it is believed they still are. They have been de-graded as modern and worthless. Only six hundred copies were printed.
